ALEX D. MOLNAR

Welcome to the 2014-15 ATHENA yearbook! My name is Alex and I am the editor-in-chief for this edition of The Athena Yearbook. I have been involved in the production of this publication since my first year as an Ohio University Bobcat. During this time, I have seen the ATHENA face many challenges, obstacles, and hurdles, but never without triumph.

This year has been no different. We, the ATHENA, have been very lucky to have had Janis Miller-Fox as an advisor for the past two years. When Janis retired in October of 2014, she ensured that we were in capable hands. Sarah McDowell is the current advisor of The Athena Yearbook – and she is amazing! Sarah has made what could have been a rocky transition smooth and seamless. Without Sarah, I know that I could not have survived in my role as editor-in-chief. She has provided an abundance of guidance and much needed advice as well as serving as a mentor and friend.

Another person who has played a pivotal role in the production of the book is Kasi Reed. Kasi and I were friends outside of the ATHENA before our involvement with this publication. It is a rare find for two individuals to be such good friends and have the ability to work closely with each other in an effective and efficient manner. I have been more than lucky to find that Kasi and I have this kind of a relationship. Without Kasi, I do not know where I would be personally or professionally. Kasi has helped me with all sorts of struggles, inside and outside of the ATHENA arena.

Unfortunately, at OHIO, the interest in the ATHENA is minimal. This is an opportunity for the ATHENA staff to share that “yes, indeed, Ohio University does have a yearbook!” It is my hope that the book will only gain momentum in the years to come. Because the staff is so small, we must rely on those who participate in different pursuits to share their content with us so that we may feature it in the yearbook. The grand majority of the content that you see this book was shared with us, after a request for content was made. I am extremely thankful for Conor Ralph and his contributions – you rock!

It is my hope that through the continued efforts of the ATHENA staff that we can work to improve the publication, add value to the OHIO experience, and continue our dedication to documenting and archiving the student perspective of Ohio University.

Thank you for picking up a copy of the 2014-15 ATHENA.

ABOVE: Students were in Scotland for the Summer 2014 Edinburgh: City and the Environment Program and could not pass of the opportunity to visit the Isle of Eigg. Although the visit wasn't on the schedule, students took advantage of a free weekend to add a journey to the small island off the coast of Scotland. It turned into an adventure. Tony Vo gets a view from the island.

Recognized by BusinessWeek as one of the best business schools in the nation, OHIO's College of Business (COB) offers a distinctive learning environment that emphasizes the skills, knowledge and application experiences necessary for success in a global economy. The COB is consistently ranked in the top 50 public university business programs, and our Schey Sales Centre is one of the top five sales programs nationwide.

The Ohio University College of Business is committed to providing a transformational professional business education that redefines the traditional educational experience. One of Ohio University's most selective colleges, the College of Business focuses not just on teaching its students business principles, but also on having students apply those principles to real-world problems.

The program is based on four essentials that provide the foundation of success in the business world: entrepreneurship, strategic leadership, global perspective and professional development.

COLLEGE OF HEALTH SCIENCES AND PROFESSIONS

content courtesy of CHSP

The College of Health Sciences and Professions (CHSP) is a place where unexpected things happen. A place where students learn and work in an interdisciplinary environment, collaborating on research, care simulations and community outreach. We like to say it is a place where everything connects.

The past academic year was an exciting one for CHSP as we celebrated school anniversaries, launched innovative interdisciplinary programs, achieved national prominence for our online RN to BSN program and opened a new facility in Dublin, Ohio. All of these milestones were made possible by the hard work and support of numerous stakeholders including faculty and staff, donors and alumni.

HERITAGE COLLEGE OF OSTEOPATHIC MEDICINE

content courtesy of UCM & ACM

The mission of Ohio University's Heritage College of Osteopathic Medicine is to educate physicians committed to practice in Ohio, emphasize primary care, engage in focused research, and embrace both Appalachian and urban communities. Now in its 39th year, the college is undergoing extraordinary growth and change. The only osteopathic medical school in the state, The Heritage College is opening extension campuses in central Ohio in 2014 and northeastern Ohio in 2015 that will transform the resources available to students and make a tremendous impact on the health of all Ohioans.

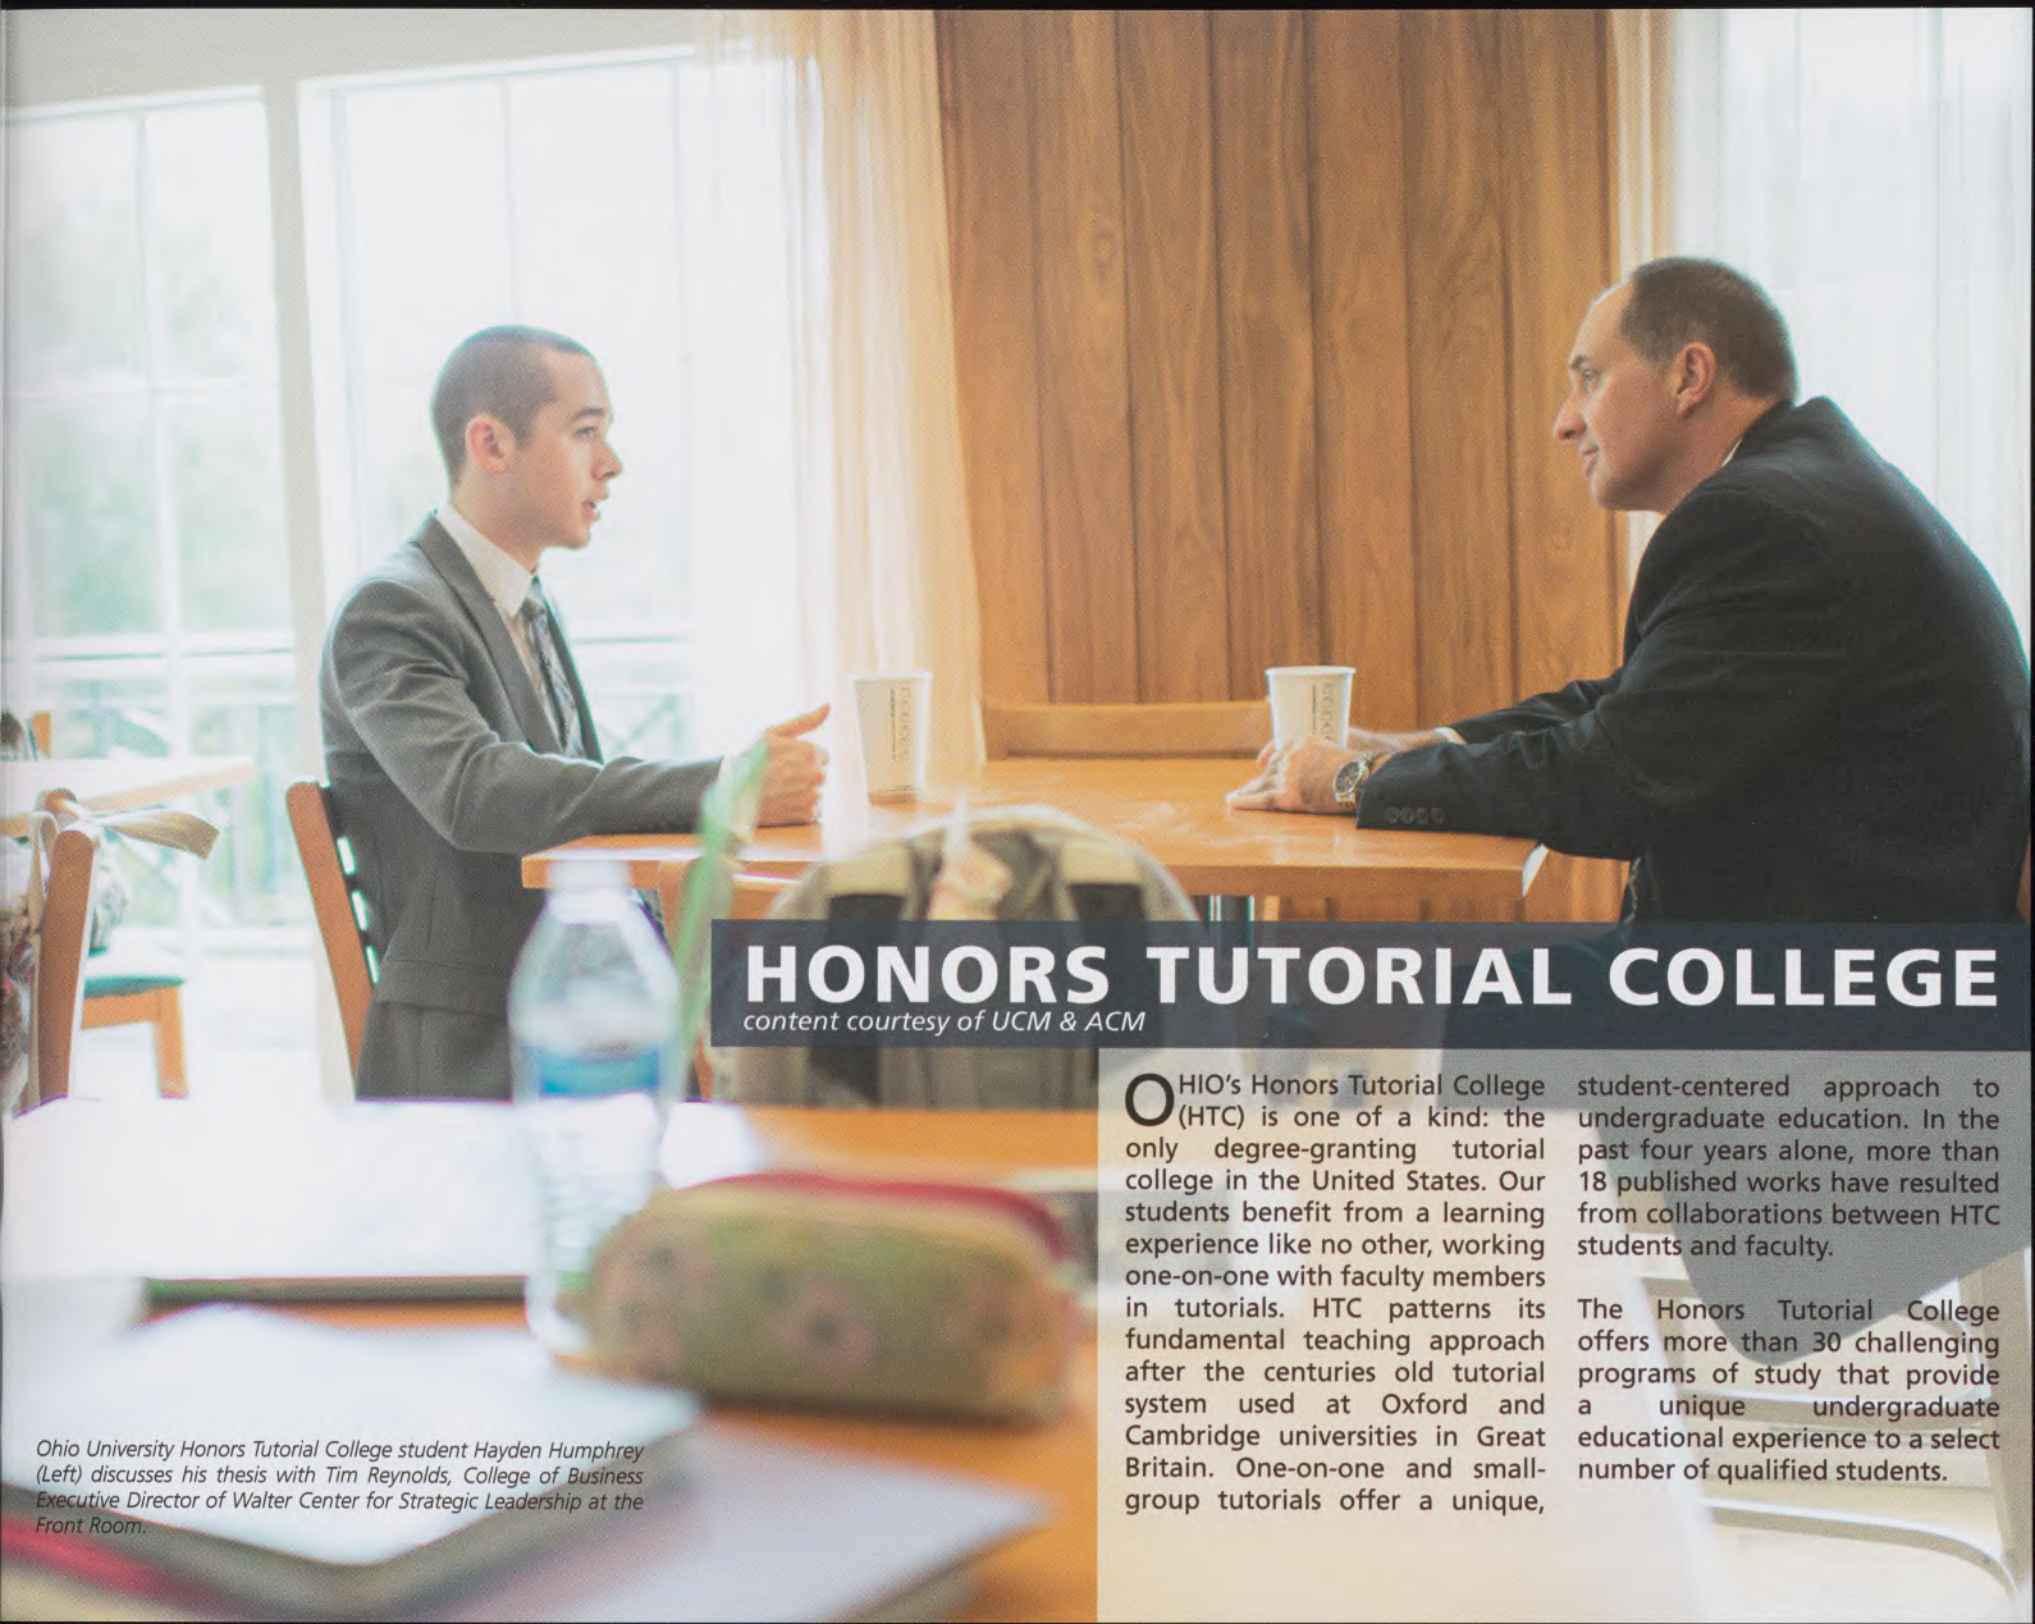

The Heritage College supports over 1,000 trainees in its entire network each year, including 500 medical students and 600 residents, interns and fellows, who train at its Centers for Osteopathic Research and Education, one of the largest, most advanced, and best supported osteopathic medical education consortiums in the United States.

The Heritage College is advancing research on diagnostics, treatments and cures for some of the most pervasive health care issues both here and abroad, such as diabetes, obesity and cardiovascular disease. Its faculty members, who often conduct their research with the assistance of medical students and biomedical science graduate students, have earned national recognition for their contributions to medicine and scientific understanding.

HONORS TUTORIAL COLLEGE

content courtesy of UCM & ACM

OHIO's Honors Tutorial College (HTC) is one of a kind: the only degree-granting tutorial college in the United States. Our students benefit from a learning experience like no other, working one-on-one with faculty members in tutorials. HTC patterns its fundamental teaching approach after the centuries old tutorial system used at Oxford and Cambridge universities in Great Britain. One-on-one and small-group tutorials offer a unique, student-centered approach to undergraduate education. In the past four years alone, more than 18 published works have resulted from collaborations between HTC students and faculty.

The Honors Tutorial College offers more than 30 challenging programs of study that provide a unique undergraduate educational experience to a select number of qualified students.

The Ohio University Scripps College of Communication is a leader in communication education and is regarded as one of the top five programs in the nation. Since its founding 45 years ago, the Scripps College has grown from just two schools to five schools offering more than 40 nationally acclaimed programs.

More than 2,100 undergraduate students and 250 graduate students study in Scripps. All five of the Scripps College's schools have garnered national acclaim.

We are proud to showcase the Steven L. Schoonover Center for Communication, our brand new facility, scheduled for completion in May 2015. This fall, for the first time ever, all of our schools' faculty and staff will be under one roof. State-of-the-art laboratory spaces and flipped classrooms are just two of the many features in the new building.

The Ohio University Scripps College of Communication is home to the following schools: E. W. Scripps School of Journalism, J. Warren McClure School of Information and Telecommunication Systems, School of Communication Studies, School of Media Arts and Studies, and School of Visual Communication.

University College serves undecided and undeclared students who are exploring the university's options before selecting a major and degree program and students who are seeking to earn the Bachelor of Specialized Studies, the Bachelor of Criminal Justice, or an associate's degree.

University College advances the mission of Ohio University by providing institutional leadership across colleges in order to promote academic advising, teaching, and learning. The college provides a number of University-wide services and is home to key units such as the Academic Advancement Center, the Allen Student Advising Center, Learning Community Programs, and Student Accessibility Services that help all undergraduates attain academic success.

University College staff members manage advising programs and orientation programs such as Bobcat Student Orientation that assist students in reviewing their interests, planning academic programs, and adjusting to University life. In addition, the College oversees the University's General Education program and fosters student success through such initiatives as learning communities, Army ROTC, Air Force ROTC, study skills, tutoring programs, and workshops to promote academic success.

Four new residence halls, a learning commons and a central office facility for Residential Housing are nearing completion on South Green, constructed in the previous location of the Wolfe Street Apartments and the Adams Hall parking lot.

The residence halls will open in August 2015 and provide housing for roughly 900 students, completing Phase I of the university's three-phase Housing Development Plan. Costs of Phase I construction total $110 million.

Each building will feature suite-style rooms with connected bathrooms and in-hall laundry facilities. They will be open to both first- and second-year students.

UNION STREET FIRE

STORY BY LIZ MASSON

In the early morning hours of Sunday, November 16, 2014, a fire broke out on West Union Street in uptown Athens that would ultimately engulf five local businesses and consume the apartments of 46 Ohio University students.

The Athens Fire Department responded shortly after 4:11am to the blaze on West Union Street between Court and Congress streets. Jackie O's Pub & Brewery, The Union Bar & Grill, Kismet, Smoke Zone Smoke Shop, Jack Neal Floral and Uptown Dog T-Shirts all suffered varying degrees of fire, smoke and water damage. The Union, beloved by many in the Athens community, was described as "a total loss."

Over $49,000 was raised for employees who lost their jobs from the fire, and $46,000 plus donations was raised for the affected Ohio University students, 19 of whom had lost their homes completely. Many of the affected uptown businesses have either reopened or plan to do so in the near future – including the Union, which will be welcomed back early next year.

THE CAMPUS INVOLVEMENT CENTER

As part of the Division of Student Affairs, the Campus Involvement Center or the "CIC" recognizes that student involvement is critical to the overall "bobcat experience." Whether you participate in one or more of the over 500 student organizations or attend the some of the ongoing campus wide social programs and activities, the CIC helps you create lasting memories of your time here at OHIO. Who doesn't remember opening weekend, following the Marching 110 up Richland Avenue to the Student Involvement Fair, attending one of the how-to series events, making sushi or string art or stopping by Baker on Wednesday for the Flavor of the Week? Others will remember going through sorority and fraternity recruitment and joining one of our social Greek Letter Organizations. Still others of you will remember giving back to the Athens community by participating in the weekly service Projects of the Week, the MLK Day of Service or Athens Beautification Day. Some of you helped us plan major programs for our community by joining the University Program Council or helped us educate other students to take responsibility for their health and wellbeing through the many health and wellness programs offered through health promotion. Some of you developed a taste for the arts through the Performing Arts Series and the Concert Connection. When you think back over this past year, we hope The Campus Involvement Center has played a part in your lasting memories of Ohio University.

AMA

Ohio State Medical Association
& American Medical Association

The OSMA/AMA organization's mission is to improve the practice of medicine through advocacy and promotion and betterment of public health. This year our school was able to submit resolutions to be voted upon at the state and national level. We also had OSMA board members come to speak on Ohio medical policy. While two students Alexander Pennekamp and Brittany Kasturiarachi were elected to serve on the OSMA board to represent Ohio medical students. The organization had multiple fundraising and community service events and students will be attending the OSMA and AMA Annual Meetings in the next couple months.

1. Medical students Progga Das, Amrita Jagpal, Grace Brantingham and Abbey Kacpura attend the House of Delegates Annual Meeting in Chicago to discuss and enact policy on issues related to the practice of medicine. 2. Andy Leubitz, Amrita Jagpal, Progga Das and Marcus Bear recruit medical students to register for OUHCOM's AMA organization. 3. Student physicians Alexander Pennekamp, Avery Braun, Amrita Jagpal and Grant Sefton attend the OSMA Annual Meeting in Columbus to discuss important medical issues and vote on resolutions.

OWIB

Ohio Women in Business

OWIB's vision is to make the Ohio University College of Business the university of choice for highly talented females entering the business world, as a result of the outstanding support, development and sense of community provided through the organization. Our mission is to Attract, Develop and Launch. To attract high potential young women to the field of business through targeted outreach and events. To develop women interested in the field of business by hosting speakers, leadership development processes, professionalism workshops, mentoring programs, social gatherings, and partnerships with other organizations. To launch women into the workplace after preparing them with networking sessions and other opportunities to gain a competitive position.

1. OWIB's first membership meeting of the semester. Thanks to everyone for coming and helping us be such a successful organization. Ohio Women in Business is open for the entire campus to join. Our mission is to attract, develop and launch people into the workforce. 2. Tracy Corrigan presented professional dress tips at "Dress for Success". The attendees learned about appropriate attire for interviews, career fairs, and for their careers. 3. OWIB 2014 Executive Board with the panelist and keynote speaker after "Recent Grads Tell All". It is an alumni event where members are able to gain insight on how to be successful in the workforce. The alumni also shared tips about overcoming obstacles they have faced being women in the business world.

New Chords on the Block

New Chords on the Block (New Chords) is the only SATB a cappella ensemble at Ohio University. The group consists of OHIO students from majors across campus. New Chords sings for a number of events in Athens, most notably performing with the touring cast of It Gets Better. This year, New Chords advanced to the quarterfinal round of the International Championship of Collegiate A Cappella (ICCA), making them the first group at Ohio University to compete at this level. This spring, along with The Leading Tones, New Chords planned and hosted the First MACappella Invitational. The event brought together 10 a cappella groups from across the Mid-American Conference for a performance that attracted a crowd of over 600! New Chords is a group of fun-loving individuals dedicated to spreading joy through quality a cappella performances.

1. New Chords practices their ICCA set for an audience of friends, family, and classmates the week of the competition. 2. # JITTERBUG CLUB

The OU Jitterbug Club is a unique group that provides students and locals with an opportunity to swing dance. Anyone can join this amazing and fun experience by coming to weekly lessons that the club provides. The "swing scene" is still in the process of growing at Ohio University and the Jitterbug Club is working to offer those interested in swing a place to call home. The main focus of our lessons involves several types of swing dance, including East Coast, Lindy-Hop, Charleston, Balboa, and Blues.

1. Warming up for a great day of Charleston dancing. 2. Learning to dance Balboa, our most complex style of swing dance. 3. Time to partner up for more Charleston moves.

R.I.S.E.

Recovery to Inspire, Share and Empower

R.I.S.E. (Recovery to Inspire, Share, and Empower) is for Ohio University students who are in recovery from alcohol, drug and other addictions. Membership into the community is open to students in recovery or students looking for a sober environment. Resources and referrals are available for students seeking recovery or are affected by the recovery and/or substance use of a friend or family member. R.I.S.E. provides a variety of supports for OU students both academically and socially. Open support meetings for members of R.I.S.E. are held weekly during fall and spring semesters. Meetings involve opportunities for students to share their struggles and successes and participate in activities structured to supplement their recovery efforts. Along with weekly meetings R.I.S.E. participated in a sober tailgate for homecoming with the Sober Bobcats, hosted a Recovery Showcase and awarded its first ever scholarship.

1. Members tabling for recovery month. 2. Ian Colegrove sharing his story at the Recovery Showcase.
3. Danielle Roberts received the first R.I.S.E. Scholarship. 4. Caitlin Phillips performing at the Recovery Showcase.

SOBER BOBCATS

Sober Bobcats is an extension of the Collegiate Recovery Community for students who are not in recovery but seeking support in their decision to live substance-free. Students who want to live a sober lifestyle often have a difficult time connecting with other students on campus. Sober Bobcats was implemented to provide a safe and fun community where students can meet others, have fun, and make new friends. Sober Bobcats was established this year and is rapidly growing with over 200 students on its email list. They hosted a sober tailgate for homecoming along with R.I.S.E. -- the Collegiate Recovery Community. Weekly meetings are held and students are able to participate in many social events such as movie nights, game nights and crafting.

FASHION ASSOCIATES

Fashion Associates focus on professional development, networking in the retail industry, and on fundraising and philanthropy; including our biggest event: the Mom's Weekend Fashion Show.

1. Every year, the Fashion Associates present the Annual Mom's weekend Fashion Show. The 2014 show had a casino theme and was titled "What Happens in Athens." 2. The Fashion associates participate in the annual Relay for Life at Ohio University. 3. A student walks down the runway at the Fashion Associates Annual Mom's Weekend Fashion Show. 4. # ECS

Elegant Citizens Society

Elegant Citizens Society is an organization that strives to provide Ohio University students with information and activities about classic etiquette and professionalism. We take a cross-cultural perspective of etiquette to give members a better understanding of what is socially appropriate in many cultures. To do this, we hold weekly meetings. Some meetings share information, such as dinner etiquette, and others are social events where we get together to practice what we have learned in a fun and efficient way. Some of our social events for the year are an elegant tea party and our annual Awards Ball. This is an opportunity for you to build your resume by being a part of a new and sophisticated organization. We have many leadership opportunities and experience for planning and budgeting for events.

1. Members at our formal event. 2. Vice President Teghan Sharp, President Courtney Barker, and Treasurer Ashley Hess in their formal lace gloves. 3. Razan Al-Nesef, Adriana Navarro, and Mary Walsh are the new members of the Elegant Citizens Society for 2015.

Oucc

Ohio University Cricket Club

OU Cricket Club is the central organization of cricket players and fans in the university. The Cricket Club supports and facilitates weekly cricket sport events for cricket enthusiasts in Athens community. The organization has been active for the last 10 years and has been playing cricket in a large field maintained by Ohio University. For the last 3 years, the club has organized teams involving OU students to participate in various tournaments in Ohio. The organization hopes to carry the spirit with all incoming students and staff and involve many cricket players in town.

THE BRIDGE

Lutheran Campus Ministry

The Bridge provides a safe and fun space for students from all walks of life and faith traditions to share and discuss ideas about spirituality, social concerns, and questions of the future. Hearty home-cooked meals are provided twice a week, and they foster a respective space for busy college students. They also complete many service projects in the community and can worship at Christ Lutheran Church for further discussion.

SME

Ohio University Society of Manufacturing Engineers

SME is an operating institution for the advancement of manufacturing knowledge. This organization provides the means and the methods of applying such knowledge in practice and in education. SME, among other things, promotes and actively engages in research, writing, publishing and dissemination of knowledge within this field. The purpose of SME here at Ohio University is to connect students and their academic experiences with the world of manufacturing as well as give back to the community.

OSAS

Ohio Student Anthropology Society

The purpose of Ohio Student Anthropology Society (OSAS) is to provide professional and career development skills to students of Ohio University interested in anthropology. The organization will also provide networking opportunities, connecting students to faculty and other professionals in anthropology in a professional manner. We are a newly dedicated club, having just formed in Fall 2014. At current date, we have approximately 30 members. Some of our activities have included primate observation at the Columbus Zoo, attendance of the annual Native American Powwow in Lancaster, guest faculty lectures to build professional relationships between students and faculty, and a resume building workshop to help members obtain jobs and internships in the field. Two of our members, Hannah Vaughn and Natasha Cromwell will be attending the Central States Anthropology Society conference in May held in St. Paul, Missouri to present academic papers dedicated to healthcare in historic Southeastern Ohio.

This photo is from the Fall Columbus Zoo trip that OSAS members organized. Intro to Biological Anthropology students were partnered with OSAS members and participated in a primate observation. Intro students recorded, hypothesized, and collaborated with OSAS members to form scientific statements and observations regarding primate behavior and social groups.

ISU

International Student Union

International Student Union is a collection of almost 30 international student organizations made up of students from all around the world hoping to share and keep their cultural traditions alive at Ohio University. ISU is the most diverse student organization on campus and has become a family and a community to many international and domestic students.

AGES

Aging and Gerontological Education Society

AGES promotes the study of aging and provides opportunities through volunteering for students to engage in meaningful interactions with older adults in the Athens community. We also provide undergraduate and graduate students the ability to explore academic, professional, advocacy, and outreach opportunities in gerontology.

SAB

Student Alumni Board

Student Alumni Board is a professional organization at OHIO with the goal of establishing and strengthening the connection between current students and the Alumni Association by creating programs and activities that open doors to students and connect alumni to campus. We are committed to the professional development and advancement of OHIO students by planning and executing programs such as Bobcat 2 Bobcat Panels, Resume Workshops, Professional Networking opportunities, and exciting philanthropic events such as Bare on the Bricks!

AIESEC

AIESEC is the largest student run organization in the world with networks in 125 countries and territories. We provide Ohio University students and students all over the world with leadership opportunities across the globe to positively impact the world by volunteering and interning abroad in numerous different countries.

Hovercraft Club

Hovercraft club engages students in various social activities and is centered around teamwork and creative problem solving with the construction of hovercraft. This year members of the club created three ride-able hovercraft, which they then tested and played games with. The crew also enjoyed pizza parties, barbecues, and other social events. By allowing students to work together and think creatively, build and innovate hovercraft, the Ohio University Hovercraft Club adds value to the community of Ohio University.

CNAFME

Collegiate National Association for Music Education

The Ohio University chapter of CNAfME provides music education students with many volunteer and professional development opportunities. Our members are crucial in the success of District 17 Middle and High School Solo and Ensemble, The Ohio University Honor Band, and Ohio University School of Music Audition Days. Our members also annually attend the Ohio Music Educators Association Conference. We add to the OHIO community by shaping leaders and volunteers that spread the importance of music and music education throughout campus.

ACACIA

Fraternity

Mar. 28 marked the Seventh Annual 5cacia, A 5k for Pancreatic Cancer Research. This event is hosted by Acacia Fraternity at Ohio University. With the generous help of the community, Greek Life, alumni and many more 5cacia raised more than $25,000 to benefit the Lustgarten Foundation. The event has raised close to $100,000 since its first event. Last year 5cacia won the award for "Outstanding Greek Philanthropy or Service Event" at the first annual Greek Awards Banquet."
